书面表达（满分 25 分）

Dear Classmates,

As the famous quote goes, honesty is like blood, which is the foundation of our life. It conveys that honesty, considered as a good virtue in Chinese culture, is vitally important. A person who is honest is worthy to be trusted and respected.

When it comes to the story on honesty, we can still have a vivid memory of Zengzi. One day, Zengzi's wife was going to the market, while her son insisted on going with her. In order to discourage her son from following her, she promised to slaughter their only pig to treat him. Much to her astonishment, Zengzi decided to kill the pig to keep her promise.

Zengzi set a good example of being honest not only to his son, but also to all of us. The lesson I have drawn from the story is that only by being honest can we be trusted by others.

Thank you for your listening!
